Senator Advises Of DA&UD Okay

A telegram from Senator Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, at pre-s-time Wednesday advised approval of a workable program for community improvement of Cameron.

Though not available for comment, Mayor Bassel Wilson had told The Herald several weeks ago that a "workable program" was being developed for Cameron.

This would enable Cameron to gain federal and in low-rent housing, some units of which it already has and 50 more of which are in design, and urban renewal and FHA (Federal Housing Administration) mortgage insurance program.

The Senator's telegram reads: "Am notified by Department of Housing and Urban Development of approval of a workable program for community improvement for Cameron, Texas. This makes Cameron eligible for certain aid such as low-rent public housing, urban renewal and certain FHA (Federal Housing Administration) mortgage insurance program."

"Ralph W. Yarborough, United

Voter Registration

Starts Today At Milam Courthouse

Registration of additional voters will begin today under the new law signed last week by Gov. John Connally.

County tax assessor-collector Valter White said Milam County voters could register in his office at the courthouse through March 17. He said anyone who paid a poll tax or obtained exemptions before January 31 did not need to register further.

Voter registration requires that a person be over 21, live in the state for 1 year and the precinct for 6 months prior to exercising his vote.

White said there were no funds to set up sub-stations for voter registration as has been done to sell poll taxes. He estimated between 1,000 and 1,500 potential voters that had not paid a county poll tax could register under the new system.

Black told The Herald he had recovered $185 in cash, part of which was 12 $10 bills, and some merchandise from the older youth. Black reported that about $3,500 was missing from the safe at Hudson's Furniture & Appliance, broken into during the night of February 25.

And he said recent break-ins at Tex Miller Sandwich Shop, Cameron County Club and Davis Store in Sharp respectively had produced estimated losses of $21 at the Country Club, some merchandise at the Davis Store, and $72-65 from Miller's shop.

Science Fair, Open House

Public Schools Week

Public Schools Week has been set for the week of March 7 through 13th and will be highlighted in the Cameron Schools by guided tours, open house and science fairs.

Members of the Board of Education, administration, and teachers have extended an invitation to visit the schools during the sixteenth observance of Public Schools Week.

The observance was launched in 1950 to advance the general interest of the public schools. In the ensuing years, Public Schools Week has become a tradition in Texas. It has won the wholehearted support of the school authorities and the cooperation of community less individuals and organizations, School Sept. D. E. Dodson said.

GUIDED TOURS

Guided tours of the Ben Milam, Ada Henderson, Yoe High and O.J. Thomas schools will be held for the public Thursday, March 10. The tours will be at 1, 1:30, 2 and 2:30 p.m. in each building. An open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, March 10, will give the public an opportunity to see the new equipment added to the schools this year, and will provide a time for parents to visit their children's teachers and discuss their work.

SCIENCE FAIRS

The Yoe High Science Fair will be open to the public from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, March 10, in the Yoe gymnasium. O. J. Thomas will have their Science Fair projects on exhibit from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, March 4.

Mrs. Hubert Nance, co-chairman of the Yoe High Fair with Fred Johns, said they expected to have about 100 entries in the Fair this year.

"Projects are on a volunteer basis this year and we are looking forward to some outstanding exhibits," Mrs. Nance said.

There will be two sections in the Yoe High Fair, senior high and 9th grade. Divisions will be Math, Physical Science and Biological science with medals to be awarded the top three in each division. Mrs. Nance said the top three winners in each division will compete in the Regional Science Fair in Waco set for the first part of April. Regional Fair winners will go on to compete in the national show to be held in May.

Science Fair projects will be judged by personnel from Temple Junior College Thursday afternoon and winners will be recognized during the open house that night.

In announcing the activities planned for Public School Week in Cameron Sept. Dodson said "Since the founding of the Texas Public School system 111 years ago, the growth and development of our State has been tied closely to the educational advantages available to Texas citizens and depend upon the continuance and furtherance of educational opportunities for all Texas children.

"Public Schools Week is an appropriate week for giving each pupil and each citizen who visits in the schools a better understanding of the vitally important responsibility which rests upon the public schools in a country governed by and for the people."

Public school students will have a holiday Friday, March 11, while teachers attend a TSTA workshop in Waco.

By F.M.L.

If the Cameron Chamber gains good percentage of its committee goals within the next year, it will be a busy year.

Of significance was the new Board's approving a letter of encouragement and endorsement for St. Edward Hospital's projected fund drive for a new $500,000 hospital within the next year.

The Cameron Industrial Foundation Board last week had approved endorsement of the project, an ambitious and important one to the Cameron and Milam area.

A drive by Cameron Industrial Foundation will begin by May 1. And vice-chairman Bob Wells is heading up a committee to itemize a precise budget for the money sought in the drive, at present a $100,000 goal.

Such ambitious considerations give the Milam Community as well as Cameron residents themselves some idea of the scope action planning has reached in the Milam County seat.

HUMILITY — One of the great lessons seldom effectively taught in college is the lesson of humility. It is usually the first of a long series of lessons we learn in our post-graduate course, when "the cold, cold world" is our instructor. This was subtly suggested in a cartoon appearing once in a New York paper late in June. It pictured a young woman in cap and gown, armed with her college diploma and a sufficient amount of self-satisfied dignity.

Confronting her was the grim visage of the old World himself, who remarked rather casually, "Well, who have we here?"

"You evidently don't know me," replied the slightly pained young graduate, "I am Cordelia Smith, A.B."

"My dear girl," replied the World, "come with me and I will teach you the rest of the alphabet."

FILCHED — The farmer drove his team of mules to town and was late returning. "What took you so long?" asked his wife.

"On the way back," he explained, "I had to pick up the minister and from there on, them mules didn't understand a thing I said."

If the first part of your car registration number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00 happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-door coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.

Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1342, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Buick's $1,000,000 Sweepstakes.

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Public School Week

Cameron Schools will hold open house next Thursday to show the new equipment and new facets of education in this system.

Schools throughout Texas annually cite Public School Week. And more changes are being wrought in education than any other phase of national life save advanced science development itself.

The annual Science Fair somewhat dominates the Public School Week activities, but this year in Cameron, as in thousands of school systems across the nation, the equipment available through Title I funds will be on display.

These facilities tend to dazzle in two of Cameron Independent School District's buildings simply because of the age of buildings and need for continued modernization.

The tax offices and warehouse, though not on either Yoe or O. J. Thomas Campus, are quickly being completed for use and storage at First and Central.

Material improvements will show throughout the system and education improvements are already accruing.

One facet of modern education appears heading for disproportion. Perhaps it is timely to note that education is moving directly into the home, not just to check truancy or sickness, but to deliver school to the home in various forms.

It is, frankly, sociology rather than education. In cases where need is justified, it is humane and just. But carried to extreme, it can condition for more help rather than less.

It is timely that Public School Week is recognized in Cameron, as in other systems, and important that parents visit improving schools which are so basic to a town entering a new phase of history.

Higher Contribution Tax To Offset Social Security Cost

By Jack Calvert
District Manager
Social Security Admin.

Today I want to discuss the important changes made in the social security disability program by the 1965 amendments. These involve a change in the laws, disability definition, as well as other minor changes.

Up until this change, disability benefits could be paid only to a person whose disability was expected to be of "long continued and indefinite duration or expected to end in death." Now, a worker will be able to get disability benefits if his impairment is expected to last 12 full calendar months or longer, even if he is expected to recover in the future.

However, under the new law, as under the old, a worker is considered disabled only if he is unable to perform any substantial work activity because of his impairment. One exception is that a blind person, 55 years of age or older, may be considered disabled if he is unable to perform his usual work. There is no change in the degree of impairment considered to be disabling.

Benefits payable because of this change in the definition of disability can be paid beginning with benefits for the month of September 1965.

Workers who became entitled after 1965 to both SS disability insurance payments and workmen's compensation benefits may be affected by a new offset provision in the law. This provision prevents a disabled worker from getting more in total benefit payments than he earned before he became disabled.

This offset provision requires that the social security benefit be reduced so that the combined benefit - social security and workmen's compensation - does not exceed 80 percent of the average monthly earnings from covered work before the worker was disabled.

For instance, a worker with a wife and one child under age 18, and having average earnings of $450 a month, becomes disabled and qualifies for disability benefits under social security and also workmen's compensation. His workmen's compensation is set at $208 a month. The two types of benefits total $488 monthly. His average earnings of $450 a month are less than his total benefits payments. 30 percent of his average earnings is $135. Therefore, the family social security benefit is reduced to $152 a month so that the total amount payable in benefits no more than 80 percent of his average earnings.

Another important change will permit a person who retired and started getting retirement benefits, under age 65, to become entitled to disability benefits, if he becomes disabled before age 65. Before this, a person who had filed for reduced retirement benefits under age 65 could not become eligible for disability payments benefits, he was prohibited from filing for and becoming eligible to disability benefits.

There are two provisions that will affect blind people. One cases the work requirement for young people who are disabled by blindness. Under this provision, a blind worker who is disabled before he reaches age 31 will be insured - that is, meet the work requirement under the law - if he has worked one-half the time after he reached age 21 and before his disability began. A minimum of one and one-half years of social security work is needed by young people who become blind before they are 21.

Texans To Have Free Registration

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Texans who failed to pay their poll tax have another chance to register for a vote in the 1966 elections. This time it's "for free!"

Registration period extends from March 3 through March 17. Any citizen eligible to vote can sign up with his county tax assessor-collector and his name will be placed on the poll list at no charge.

So reads the "emergency" provision in the new voter registration act just passed by the Legislature and signed into law by Gov. John Connally.

Hereafter, free registration will take place from October through January each year.

There is one possible hitch:

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr fears that names of those who sign up during March won't be available for local elections already slated on bond issues, local option liquor questions, etc. He asked the three federal judges who banned the poll tax to put off their order until March 26.

Estimates of the number of Texans who will take advantage of the free right to vote vary widely - from 50,000 to 1,000,000. Any figure approaching the latter could make a substantial difference in the outcome of many local and some statewide elections. Indications are that the number of new voters will be nowhere near that high, however.

All who paid poll taxes by January 31 will be entitled to vote as usual, without re-registering.

PECOS SULPHUR BOOM

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler compares reaction to the recent Pecos County sulphur discovery with California's Gold Rush days of 1849.

He said "operators are moving in both day and night attempting to locate and file claims on state-owned land, to mine sulphur."

Sadler declined to accept 50 cents an acre per year for sulphur leases when, he stated, leading sulphur operators paid up to $2,000 an acre bonus for five-year leases in a recent federal sale off the coast of Texas.

State School Land Board rejected a rash of filings under an 1895 claim law. Board set a sulphur lease sale, along with oil and gas bidding, for May 3.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Governor Connally appointed Hill County Attorney Steve Latham of Hillsboro to succeed Sam Johnson, resigned, as judge of the 66th District Court or Hill County. Latham formerly practiced law in Wichita Falls.

Governor chose former District Attorney Dan Walton of Houston as judge of Harris County's Criminal District Court No. 4, succeeding the late Judge A.H. Krichmar. Connally's appointees to the new Connally's appointees to the Clinton Howard of Irving, Henry J. LeBlanc Sr. of Port Arthur, Herbert Whitney of Corpus Christi and Dr. Wendell Hamrick, John Files and Dr. Herbert McKee, all of Houston.

Bob Cheatham of Texarkana and Clifford Hensley of El Campo were named by the Governor to the Texas Real Estate Commission.

WATER DEBATE RE-HEARD

Supreme Court of Texas has taken under advisement a long-standing dispute between city of San Antonio and cities in the Guadalupe River basin.

San Antonio is appealing a 1967 Texas Water Commission decision. Ruling denied the Alamo City's application for 105,000-acre feet of water a year from Canyon Dam near New Braunfels and awarded 50,000-acre feet from the reservoir to Guadalupe-Blanco River authority for municipal use downstream.

Attorneys for San Antonio claimed the city must import 133,000-acre feet for its needs by 1980. Meanwhile, Guadalupe basin will have a surplus over necessities of 136,000-acre feet.

GBRA attorney denied any surplus is in sight. He said some cities, including Seguin and Port Lavaca, already have suffered from serious shortages.

Major legal point involved is whether the Commission can delegate to GBRA rights to release water to unspecified municipal users, while denying San Antonio's application to pipeline water from another basin for high priority city and domestic needs.

AG RULES

Attorney General has ruled that Texas Highway Department may grant the owner and operator of overweight mobile equipment, which transports frac oil in oil well servicing, a permit for the movement of the equipment.

In other actions he ruled that a county attorney isn't authorized to bring ouster proceedings against a city attorney of a city incorporated under the general laws of Texas.

A chain referral selling plan to promote sales, containing a prize awarded under the element of chance, is a lottery in Texas.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

SAGE SAYS RUSSIAN PROPOSAL

GIVES CAUSE FOR SLEEPLESS NIGHT

Dear editor:

According to an article I was reading in a copy of a newspaper last night hoping it would help me to get to sleep. Russia has come up with a new idea to save civilization from a nuclear war.

It's simple. Russia wants each one of the powers that have nuclear bombs, the United States, the Soviet Union, China, De Gaulle, to sign a pledge agreeing not to be the first to drop the things.

Obviously, if nobody drops one first, nobody ever will, and so nuclear destruction is thus headed off. How can you have a gun-fight if no gunman draws first?

But then I got to thinking. Why stop there? Why not get the same pledge on rifles, pistols, hand grenades, mortars, land mines, fire bombs, machine guns, sling shots and B-B guns? Fists, too.

If every nation in the world will agree not to shoot first with any kind of weapon, we've got it made.

Then all we'd have to do is get women and children to sign a pledge never to speak until spoken to and we'd finally have some peace and quiet on this earth.

That seemed to take care of the whole problem and I was ready to drift off into sleep with a job well done and nothing to worry about but taxes and fish bait when a sudden thought began to nag at me.

What if Russia or China some dark night around mid-night Washington time decided to throw out all the pledges of the old one and decided to let us know about it by tying the diplomatic note on the front end of a guided missile?

Nope, I decided, we could sign the pledge all right, but we'd better keep our guns oiled.

It took me another thirty minutes before I could get to sleep.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

PENGUIN-DOWN DRI - DIE

Versatile Dust Developed by Scientists

Researchers have discovered a new method of protecting houses and apartments against roaches and a hundred other insects for the lifetime of the occupants.

Professors of entomology said that a new dust called "Amorphous Silica Gel" has been developed that is harmless to humans and animals but lethal to roaches, cockroaches, silverfish and a hundred other insects. The dust literally dries the insects to death by removing a protective wax on their bodies and causing death through evaporation of body moisture. Once applied, it can last indefinitely without losing its ability to kill pests.

Outlook Good For Yoemen Track Victories

By Eddie Huntsman

Track season at Yoe High is coming into high gear. Basketball season is over for the Yoemen, but the track outlook, district wise is good.

The Yoemen edged out the Tigers from Rockdale last year by a few points. Mack McKinney, a senior this year is back and expected to do very well in the hurdles and the broad jump. McKinney last year went to the state interscholastic meet in Austin, but didn't place. Perry from Rockdale was the other 17AA representative and he placed first in the high hurdles and third in the low hurdles.

Mike McDaniel, won the distinction of representing the district in the discus competition with a winning throw of 113'1". He placed 7th in regional although throwing the discus 131'.

Newton Burnett, who runs in the 300 is back and is expected to do real well in that event this year. He placed 2nd in district. Miller Paul Chandler, who ran third last year in the district meet and Forrest Green, who runs in about four events are expected to lend valuable points to the Yoemen's cause.

The Junior team last year won that division crown and many of them are expected on this year's varsity squad.

Cook Sanity Hearing Re-Set For April 4

A sanity hearing for Oscar Cook of Rogers has been continued until April 4 according to Milam County Attorney John Henderson Jr.

The hearing, originally set for Monday, February 23, in Marlin, was re-set when one of the defense attorneys was not able to appear.

Cook was found guilty of murdering his mother-in-law in a shooting at his estranged wife's family home in Davilla. He also shot three other members of the family and wounded himself. He was sentenced to death following a jury trial January 30, 1964.

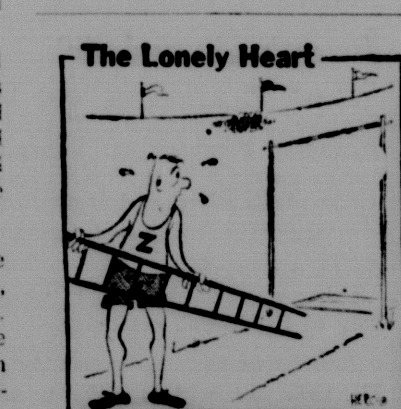

Defense attorneys Charles Reagan, Jack Welch and Robert D. Peterson of Marlin appealed the sentence and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the judgement in a decision announced February 14.

Representing the State are Falls County Attorney Tom Bartlett and Henderson. The case was remanded for trial to the Falls County District Court after efforts to empanel a jury in Milam's 20th District Court failed.

Foods Nutrition Course Set For Young Homemakers

Carol Bennett, Milam County Home Demonstration Agent, and Texanna Manley, Associate H. D. Agent, will contact a Foods and Nutrition School for young mothers and homemakers beginning March 10 at the Minerva Community Center.

The school includes six lessons to be given in two hour sessions 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Thursday March 10, 24 and April 7, 14, 21 and 28.

This school is planned especially for young homemakers but any age homemaker is invited to attend. There is no charge for the workshop and babysitters will be provided at the Minerva Community Center.

Recipes and reference material will be distributed in connection with the lessons on foods and nutrition.

The first class will introduce the homemaker to the need for a wide variety of foods in meal preparation. This lesson is entitled "Eat to Live Better" and is planned to develop an understanding of the relationship of food to nourishment.

During the second class, "Children Grow Right with Right Foods," eating habits in children, making allowances for each child's development pattern, realizing what affects his appetite, and noting differences between a child's likes in food and in an adults, will be among the chief topics.

"Meal Planning Made Easy" for individual families will be taken up in the third class. Relationship of flavors, color, texture and temperature will also be included in the study.

"Food Selection and Buying" will be taken up in the fourth lesson. Since the typical family spends one half of their food budget for meat, milk and eggs, one-fifth for vegetables and fruit, and the rest for other food items, methods of getting the most from a food dollar will be discussed. In the fifth class, "Principles of Food Preparation" will be discussed. On the theory that food preparation is more interesting if the homemaker understands what cooking does to it and why these changes take place, Miss Bennett and Mrs. Manley will use these as the basis for the discussion.

The last topic, "Food Facts and learn to spot food quacks easily.

To enroll, fill out the following form and send to Carol Bennett, Box 703, Cameron, Texas.

Family Spending

Depends On Plan

For Major Goals

Organize a family spending plan to help members obtain major goals, suggests Mrs. Doris Myers, Texas A&M University Extension area home management specialist.

Realistic spending goals should be set after all members of the family have participated in the planning, the specialist adds.

First, write down all bills that must be met—then plan for the other family "wants." A good spending plan should be "tailor made"—not only to family income, but also to preferences of members, the specialist adds.

Include all the set payments that must be met. And beware of too many time payments—plan on buying only one major item at a time, if possible.

When considering foods, buy the more important foods first—the items most essential to good health. Include the utility bills, rent or house payments which must be paid on schedule. Costs of utility bills may be reduced slightly if family members cooperate in this project.

Family members should realize that all desires can never be met in any one month, the specialist points out.

Mrs. Myers emphasizes that Dr. Evelyn Duvall, professor and marriage counselor at the University of Chicago, says that a "good spending plan or budget should have plenty of 'give.' Its purpose is to provide support, to keep things from spreading out too far, and to do so without pinching and binding."

Lutheran College

Cen-Tex Exes Meet

The Central Texas chapter of the Texas Lutheran College Extension Association will hold its annual meeting Sunday, March 15, at 6 p.m. in St. John Lutheran Church, Bartlett.

LaVerne Landquist, sports director at KTRC-TV in Austin, will be the feature speaker.

Banquet reservations are $1.75 and may be made through Gilbert Fischer, Bartlett. March 15 is the deadline for reservations. President of the chapter is Rev. Walter Miller, of Thorndale.

Light Affects Crop Yields

Farmers may some day time their planting dates so the crops will be heading out during the period when the days are longest. A Texas A&M University scientist is doing extensive work which shows that the amount and intensity of light during the critical heading stage plays a determining factor in rice yields. He believes his findings may well apply to other major Texas crops.

County Agent's Notes

BIG Figures Reflect Economy

By J. D. Moore

Cotton and cottonseed showed a loss due to low yields from late planted cotton. All other crops showed a gain except oats. Grain sorghum sales showed a $29,000 increase over 1961. Total sales for all crops in 1965 was $7,932,710. Total sales of all crops in 1964 was $5,333,322. The 1965 increase over 1964 was $2,599,388, on crop sales.

Sales of livestock and livestock products show a substantial gain in 1965 over 1964. 10,000 cattle sold for $1,100,000 and 25,000 calves sold for an estimated $2,700,000 in 1965. The 1965 increase over 1964 was $35,000 on cows and $45,000 on calves. Favorable growing conditions and strong markets accounted for this gain.

Hogs showed a $18,000 gain and pigs showed only a $3,000 gain.

The figures for this report were taken from the fourth annual evaluation study assembled by Texas Power & Light Company in cooperation with evaluation committees in each of 36 Bland counties in central Texas. A copy of this report is on file in local banks, T. P. & L. Office and the county agents office.

Make Believe Meat? Soybeans Pose Possibility Of Substitute

COLLEGE STA.—"Make Believe" meat—a substitute for red meat and poultry could have a severe impact upon the economy of Texas, says Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, Texas A&M University.

Recent developments in the use of spun fibers of soybean protein as a substitute for almost any food with natural fiber texture may bring this problem closer to farmers and ranchers in the foreseeable future.

The fiber can be treated to imitate such foods as meat, dried fruits, potato chips, nut kernels and many vegetables. Since it has no taste, it may be given any flavor desired.

Substitution of synthetics for farm products is not new. Nylon, rayon, dacron and other synthetic fibers have cut deeply into wool and cotton utilization. Soybeans or other substitutes for meat is therefore not too surprising.

The final story will be unfolded in the future. Since these synthetics are new, research is still in progress and many product developments and consumer response problems still have to be worked out.

Computer Programming Available For Cotton Producers At A&M U.

COLLEGE STATION

Effective March 1, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is offering a new analytical tool to the state's cotton producers—electronic computer programming.

Purpose of the project, according to Extension Director John E. Hutchinson, is to aid farmers in making decisions regarding the 1966 federal cotton program. Because of the many alternatives under the current program, days of figuring by a mathematician would be required to give a farmer all the answers.

Not only does the farmer have to decide whether or not to participate in the program, but at what level if the answer is yes to participation. Decision making doesn't end here, explains Hutchinson. There are any number of row patterns or combinations which may be selected and yields and income must be considered, he adds.

The farmer can, by supplying certain basic information, get help from the electronic computer in his decision making. He will have to supply data on such things as the kind and amount of land, cotton allotment, production costs and returns for each of the row patterns considered.

A form has been developed for farmer use in submitting the needed data, according to Cecil Parker, Extension farm management specialist who heads up the new activity. The fee covers the programming of one ASC contract. The farmer will receive from the analysis the income available from each level of participation, and the row pattern or combination selected. After a study of the four solutions programmed, the farmer can select the one best suited to his farm.

Parker says all county agricultural agents have the details on the new project, including the fee to be charged, and will be glad to discuss them with any interested cotton producer.

Electronic equipment in Texas A&M University's Data Processing Center will be utilized in the project, Parker said.

First Baptist To

Make Church Survey

The First Baptist Church will make a Religious Survey of Cameron beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 6.

Rev. Jim Lafferty, pastor, said the survey is one way of determining the spiritual needs of the community. "If a church is to minister to the city's people, it must know where the people are and what their church relationship the their spiritual needs are."

"The last religious survey of the city was conducted in 1962 by all of the churches in Cameron. In the time since then the population of the city has made many changes. The files of the church need to be brought up to date in order to reflect those changes," he added.

Rev. Lafferty asked that residents watch for the survey team in their neighborhood and give information requested quickly and courteously.

The printers' union, organized in 1853, is the oldest labor union in the U. S.

COTTON BLENDING MACHINE

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that an experimental machine which can blend cottons from as many as 19 bales is being developed. Although the machine is now under construction for evaluation at a cotton mill, the experimental machine has shown excellent promise. The need for improved blending is a result of improvements in other cotton processing machinery.

NEW USES FOR SORGHUM

Work is underway at Texas A&M University to find new uses for grain sorghum, one of the state's major cash crops, already known for its versatility. Special attention is being given to developing the grain to industrial uses, animal human foods in particular.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

LOST BOY

Dry those tears, Sonny. The Law has brought you home.

But when you're grown up, don't get lost then—for the Law won't be able to bring you home!

Sure, grown-ups often get lost. They choose the wrong road, they take the wrong turn, they depend on the wrong ideas, they seek the wrong aims. And some of them get lost again and again.

Why can't the Law bring them home, too? Well, when a grown-up gets lost he generally does a lot of harm to himself and others. And then it's the job of the Law to protect people from the harm he is doing.

But, Sonny, when you grow up you're not going to get lost. We have thousands of churches for youngsters like you—and for your parents, too. Churches teach us to find ourselves before we have a chance to get lost.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TOMRA Proposes Tour Of States Spanish Mission Sites

Texans who have an interest in their state's beginnings are invited to attend an informative program in Gabriel Saturday, March 12.

This is the word from Robert S. Weddle, Minard newspaper publisher and author and president of Texas Old Missions Restoration Assn.

Weddle, who has written a book about the Spanish mission (Santa Cruz de San Sabá) and presidio which were located near his community, feels that every Texan should be interested in the state's Spanish mission heritage.

As he puts it "The very foundation of Texas came to rest upon the Spanish missions. They introduced agriculture—the livestock industry, the citrus industry—and arts and crafts to the wilderness, and sowed the first seeds of civilization."

Now holding its fourth annual meeting, TOMRA has as its goal the formation of a Texas mission Trail—a specified tour to the old Spanish mission sites. These sites have been estimated to number as high as 90, the president says, though not nearly all are identifiable.

The March 12 meeting will get underway in the Goliad School Cafeteria at 11 a.m., following 10 o'clock registration and coffee. In addition to the report of the president on TOMRA's work during the last year will be discussions of mission research by Brother Fabius Dunn, St. Edward's University, Austin, and the proposed Texas Mission Trail by Henry Guerra, WOAI-TV, San Antonio.

Organized in 1962 in Austin, TOMRA held all its meetings in the state capital city until last year. With a meeting in San Antonio, is initiated a policy of meeting in communities located at or near Spanish mission sites. A tour of the adjacent sites now is a key part of the program each year.

Nacogdoches, Camp Wood and Menard are being considered as possible hosts for the next meeting, in March, 1967.

The purpose of TOMRA, said the president, is to enhance the knowledge and appreciation of Texans for their heritage and at the same time to create, with the Texas Mission Trail, a highly valuable tourist attraction.

Rural Electric People Help Build Payrolls In The City

Each year, rural electric people all over the nation buy more than a billion-and-a-quarter dollars worth of electrical equipment and appliances—and this is only a fraction of the annual total of goods and services produced in the towns and cities and bought by rural electric people.

Workers and businesses feel this rural electric purchasing power where it counts—in their pay envelopes and cash registers.

We are proud of the part we play in helping to keep this nation's economy strong.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

TOO SICK TO WORK?

As the result of a stroke, Mary suffered permanent disability in one hand. This made it impossible for her to carry on her usual job in a textile mill. So she put in a claim for disability benefits under the federal Social Security Act.

However, her claim was turned down. Reason: she was still able to perform other jobs in the mill which were open to her.

Generally speaking, the Social Security Act does provide monthly cash payments to an eligible worker with a long term disability. The purpose is to "bridge the gap" until he is old enough to collect retirement benefits.

But when is a person sufficiently disabled to qualify for aid? The law seeks to help those truly in need, yet not those who in all fairness could still earn their own living.

Thus, you ordinarily cannot collect benefits if your handicap is one that could be remedied with a reasonable exercise of will power.

In one case a man was suffering from back pains, too severe to allow him to work. However, it appeared that his condition could be greatly improved if he would diet off some excess pounds.

Under these circumstances, a court held he was not disabled in the sense that the law meant—and therefore he did not qualify for disability payments.

Another rule, illustrated by Mary's case above, is that you are not disabled merely because you are no longer doing exactly the same job you have done in the past. The law expects you to take an alternative job, if you are fitted for it.

On the other hand, the law does not expect you to seek work beyond your capacities. For example:

A workman, forced by injuries to give up manual labor, was still physically able to do clerical work at a desk. But he had neither the education nor the experience for it. Therefore, a court held him sufficiently disabled to qualify for benefits.

Nor must you seek a kind of work which you could do only at the cost of grievous pain and effort. As one judge put it, the law should not be applied so sternly that it would aid only the "totally helpless and bedridden" and "those at death's door."

YOUNG MEN SET FASHION'S PACE IN 'BASIC' LOOKS

COLLEGE STATION

Young men set the men's fashion pace today, with demands for comfort, quality and smartness, says Mary Roth, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University.

There are three basic "looks" in men's clothing: Traditional, conventional and contemporary.

The man who chooses the traditional or "Ivy" type of styling favors clothes with no shoulder padding. The suit is easy-fitting with severely straight lines. The jacket is always a three-button variety with only two buttons on each sleeve. Pants are pleated and trim. A vest may be used.

Traditional dressers invariably pick shirts with button-down collars with a soft flattering roll or snap-tab. These shirts feature authentic traditional styling complete with front center pleat and box pleat, hanger loop and collar button in back. Most important, Ivy style shirts should be tapered for no waistline blousiness. Regimental stripe or small neat foulard ties suit this style best.

The conventional look of today is somewhat of a styled-down, two button version of the traditional look. Moderation in design is an important factor. Shoulder lines of this style most resemble the traditional with the barest minimum of but they will probably not be authentic makes use of vertical side darts to provide better fit. This suit always has pocket flaps and usually two buttons on the cuff.

Conventional shirt tastes usually follow those of the traditional dresser, but with less demand for authentic Ivy details. Conventional ties may be attractively striped, but they will probably not be quite regimental patterns.

Unlike his traditional counterpart, the contemporary dresser chooses some padding in the shoulders of his suit jacket. The side pockets do not have flaps and there is a definite ridge at the point where the sleeve joins the shoulder.

The contemporary type suit has a vertical dart on either side to give a slight definition to the waistline. Most recognizable features are the neck hugging collars and a firm, well-tailored look in the coat front chest area; the one-button front closing of the jacket, and the one button on each sleeve.

IRS Answers Tax Questions

(Editor's note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q - My buddy told me that you don't have to figure how much tax you owe when file on the 1040A. Is that right?

A - IRS will figure your tax when Form 1040A is filed if you wish and your income is less than $5,000. When it does you will receive a bill if you owe tax or a refund if you have overpaid your tax through income tax withholding. If your income is $5,000 or more you must compute your own tax.

Q - Do I have to pay tax on my Social Security pension?

A - No, Social Security benefits are not taxable income.

Q - Do I have to file a return to obtain a refund? I earned less than $600 last year but did have some tax withheld from my wages

A - To obtain a refund you must file a return. The card Form 1040A may be the best, as well as the easiest, for you to use. Don't forget to send us your W-2 form with your return. The W-2 shows how much tax was withheld.

Q - Would you explain the minimum standard deduction?

A - This deduction is $200 plus $100 for each exemption taken on the return, but not in excess of $1,000.

A married couple with two dependent children will be entitled to a deduction of $600 under this provision.

A married taxpayer filing separately may deduct $100 plus $100 for each exemption, limited to $500.

Q - I've heard that one of the tax benefits for older people is to be able to sell your home at a profit and not be taxed. Is that right?

A - If certain conditions are met, you may elect to exclude the gain from the sale of your home. Generally speaking, these conditions are that your adjusted sales price was $20,000 or less, you were 65 or older on the date of the sale, and you occupied the house as your principal residence for at least 5 of the 8 years before the sale.

If you sold the house for over $20,000 and the other conditions are met, then you may elect to have only a portion of your profits taxed. This tax break is available only once in a lifetime and only if you elect to use it. This is explained in the booklet, Tax Benefits for Older Americans, available at IRS offices.

Q - Last year the amount I could deduct for child care expense was raised to $900. Is the amount the same this year?

A - Yes. Up to $900 may be deducted when there are two or more qualifying dependents for which this expense is necessary. Working wives whose husbands are capable of self-support must file jointly and must reduce their deduction by the amount their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $6,000. A man may deduct these expenses only if he is divorced, widowed, or legally separated, or if his wife is incapacitated or institutionalized.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

How Well Do You Cope With Your Moods?

by Jane Sherrod Singer

All things, animate and inanimate, react to influences. Man, being a reasoning creature, calls his mental "ups" and "downs" moods. How much do you know about moods and how well do you control yours? Would you say YES or NO to the following questions?

- | | YES | NO |
|--|-----|-----|
| 1. Is the way you feel or think often influenced by weather conditions? | () | () |
| 2. Have you ever charted your own daily progressions of moods from bad to elated over a period of at least two months? | () | () |
| 3. Do you occasionally go out on spending sprees, buying more than you need and/or can afford? | () | () |
| 4. Do you think that phases of the moon have an influence on human behavior? | () | () |
| 5. If you are nervous, worried, or sad, do you eat or drink more than you normally do? | () | () |
| 6. Do you feel that most of your errors are the fault of someone else? | () | () |
| 7. If you are frustrated at one job, can you slip easily into another activity? | () | () |
| 8. Do you think there is a strong tie between how your body functions and how your mind operates? | () | () |
| 9. Are moods hereditary? | () | () |
| 10. Are you usually proud of your environment and grooming? | () | () |

ANSWERS:
Questions 1, 2, 4, 8, and 9 are concerned with your KNOWLEDGE about moods:

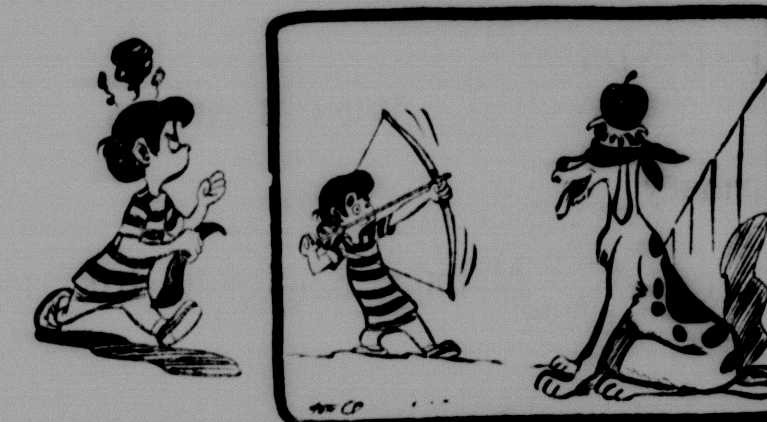

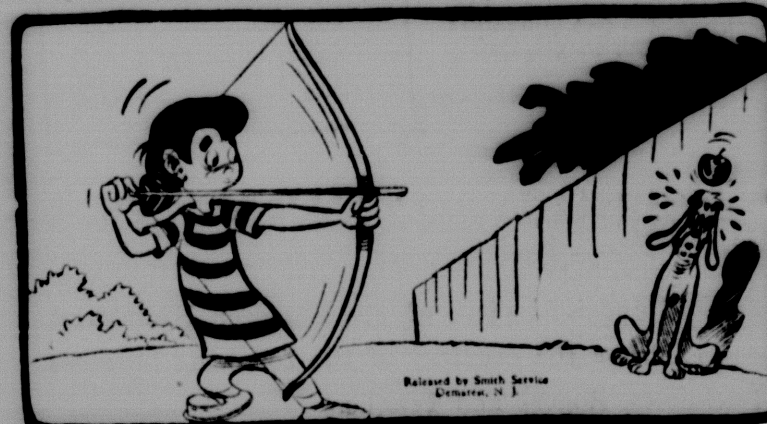

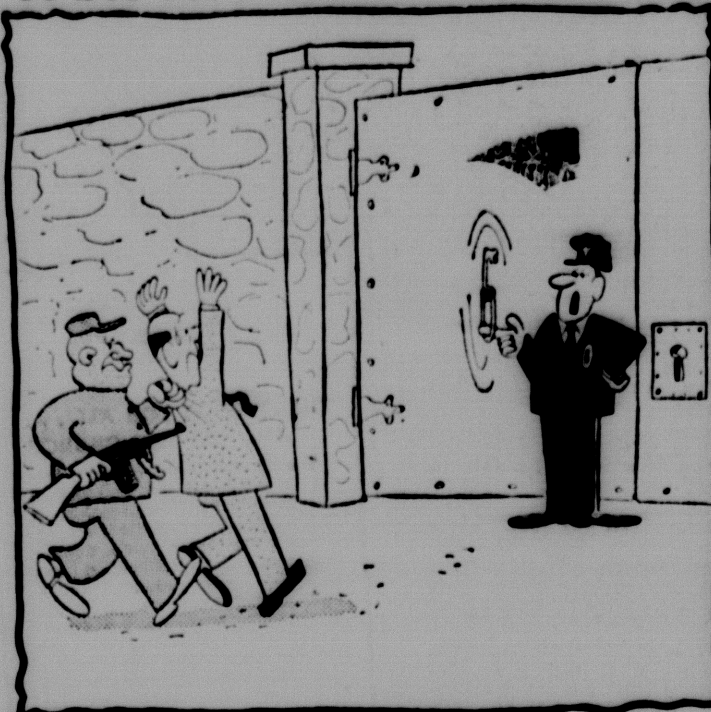

- YES. Research shows that weather contributes to moods, but to each person differently. "Some like it hot; some like it cold..."
- YES. There is a rhythm to moods. If you take the time to chart them, you will know yourself better and thus, be more able to recognize and control your own pattern.
- YES. While no reason can, as yet, be given, there is sufficient evidence in police files to show the influence of waning and waxing moons and of eclipses.
- YES. A healthy body contributes to a sound mind. It also works the other way. It is entirely possible to "think yourself" to sickness.
- NO. Your bodily structure is hereditary, but your emotions are a matter of your environment and how you interact with it.

Questions 3, 5, 6, 7, and 10 are concerned with your CONTROL of your moods. Desirably, 3, 5, 6 should be NO, 7 and 10 YES.

SCORING:
8 to 10 correct answers: You are well informed and have good control. You use both your mind and body well.
4 to 7 correct answers: People cannot be sure of how you will react but they may tend to expect the worst. However, you are on the right track.
0 to 3 correct answers: Like a leaf driven by the wind, you are the victim of your own emotions. "Know Thyself!"
